Investigators have found the body of the Osseo-Fairchild School District Superintendent. A news release from the Barron County Sheriff's Department says that deputies found the body of Dennis Geissler on Wednesday at a home in Barron County.

Osseo-Fairchild Middle/Senior High Principal Bill Tourdot told police on Wednesday afternoon that he had not heard from Geissler in several days, and when he had stopped at the house, he found Geissler dead in his car in the garage.

Investigators believe Geissler died of carbon monoxide poisoning, but are analyzing toxicology evidence to determine exactly how he died.
