

City hall is there to serve the public. Mike Brown's question: Why is city government in La Crosse so customer-unfriendly? Brown's among the many candidates for mayor in La Crosse. He relates his own experience dealing with complications of getting an apartment inspected in the city

\(Click for Audio\)

Brown, also the La Crosse Tavern League president, says his goals for city government is to make it more customer-oriented while reining in fees and preventing property taxes from growing.