

Sparta Meat Recall

Tuesday, 14 May 2013 11:34 - Last Updated Tuesday, 14 May 2013 11:35

Foss Fine Meats, of Sparta, is voluntarily recalling its beer bratwurst, meat loaf and summer sausage products containing potential allergens that are not listed in the ingredient statement. The products contain nonfat dry milk, wheat and soy, all of which can cause serious reactions in people with an allergy or severe sensitivity to the ingredient. No illnesses have been reported from consuming these products.

The following products containing non-fat dry milk which was not declared in the ingredient statement were sold over the counter or frozen in vacuum-sealed packages:

Beer Bratwurst – Fresh
Beer Bratwurst – Precooked
Brat Dogs – Fresh
Beer Bratwurst with Kraut

Meat loaf containing wheat and soy was sold frozen in vacuum-sealed packages and is missing the ingredient statement.

All products were sold at the company's retail store in Sparta and were purchased by consumers on or before May 7th. Consumers who have any of these products may return them to Foss Fine Meats, or discard them.