

Downtown Council Rep is No Fan of Inspection Move

Wednesday, 29 January 2014 13:21 -

Some on the La Crosse city council will need some convincing about putting fire inspectors to work as code enforcers in the city. Downtown council rep, James Cherf is among those who don't think that would be a good use of fire inspectors' time

\(Click for Audio\)

Mayor Kabat wants fire inspectors to take over code enforcement so the city's overwhelmed planning and inspection department can focus on other work.