A federal border agent is among those in big trouble after this week-end's festing in La Crosse. Police say 30 year-old David Sackmaster beat up a bar employee in an alley off of fourth street. The 59 year-old victim was apparently taking out the garbage around bar time on Saturday, surprised Sackmaster taking a leak in the alley and then got pummeled by the younger man. Cops say Sackmaster was bragging about the beating later. The victim suffered skull fractures and his brain was bleeding but doctors say none of the injuries appear to be life threatening. Sackmaster claims he was simply defending himself.
