

Sex Offender Released in La Crosse

Wednesday, 10 November 2010 10:48 -

A child rapist has been released in La Crosse. La Crosse police say 30 year-old Troy Baker is the latest sex offender to get released into the community. Baker was convicted of first degree sexual assault of a child after raping a 12 year-old girl and a 15 year-old girl. Police say Baker will be living at Attic on Rose street on the northside across from the Three Rivers Waldorf school. Baker is not to have contact with any children.
