

Earlier this month, Everbrite of Lacrosse announced they would be closing their Lacrosse plant....leaving about 40 workers without a job. Now, those workers are eligible to apply for additional re-employment and training services under the federal Trade Adjustment Assistance program.

The workers produced commercial signs, and they were displaced as Everbrite sales declined in competition with imported products.

The certification applies to workers displaced as of December 13th, 2009, through December 23rd, 2012, and includes on-site leased workers from Olsten Staffing Services. Affected workers will be notified of meetings to discuss program benefits.
