

End of School Year Brings Retirement for Onalaska's Burnett

Friday, 21 January 2011 11:06 -

There's long term employees and then there's guys like John Burnett. After forty years in the Onalaska school district, Burnett calls it quits this June, retiring as the district's superintendent, a job he's held since 1996. Burnett started out in Onalaska as a social studies teacher in 1971. Burnett made his retirement announcement this morning.